

I do not want the FCC to weaken the no call list. The Established business relationship is “bunk” they are calling to sell things. They are just wording it different now.

I am paying for my phone not them and when they start sending me cash for (my time, phones and my employee’s time) we will talk.

Ed Cormany